PROFILE

Mark is a born and raised Pittsburgher, and the Sales Leader for PeopleOne Health. Mark joined PeopleOne after a 15 year career in the benefits and HR consulting industry, most recently as the founder and managing partner of Lockton's Pittsburgh operations.

Throughout Mark's career he's been an entrepreneur, strategist and team builder who has led go-to market strategy for start-ups and global brokerage/consulting firms focused on delivering sustainable, data-driven solutions centered on a belief that business leaders can do better for their organizations by doing better by their people.

This belief was the motivation for Mark to join PeopleOne Health to lead growth for an organization focused on delivering a more equitable healthcare experience by providing VIP level experiences to all members.

Mark lives in the East End of Pittsburgh with his wife and four children and is a regular on the trails of Frick Park. Mark is also an active member of the Allegheny Conference, the Pittsburgh Business Group of Health, the Pittsburgh Human Resources Association and is in the current cohort of Leadership Pittsburgh.
