Driving Productivity:

How One Employer Improved Diabetes Outcomes and Reduced Employer Costs

More than 38 million Americans have diabetes with an estimated 95 percent of them having type 2 diabetes. In 2022, that resulted in $106.3 billion in lost productivity for employers.

We can do better – and David Hines did.

Join PBGH for this special in-person event and learn how Hines, who serves as executive director of employee benefits for Metro-Nashville Public Schools, developed and deployed a strategy, which leveraged clinical data and tools to help employees live healthier lives and reduce the employer's costs.

Title: Employer Educational Initiative:
“Leveraging the Impact of Innovative Technology in Diabetes Management”

When: Thursday, April 3, 2025

Time: Breakfast 8:30 a.m.

Workshop: 9 a.m. - 11 a.m.

Location: Southpointe Golf Club
360 Southpointe Blvd.
Canonsburg, PA 15317

“David’s presentation was incredibly insightful and provided a detailed roadmap. His results are very encouraging for other employers to take similar action.”
